

Research Update

Stamping Out “Word Poverty”

How can teachers fill the gaps in word knowledge?

Teacher Speak

A Glossary of Teaching Terms

Do your eyes glaze over when you hear “teacher speak?” Does it make you stare like a deer in the headlights? Visit the NPH Glossary of Teaching Terms.

Teacher Tip

Technology in the Classroom

A teacher from N.J. asks, “How can I integrate more technology into my classroom to engage struggling and ELL/ESL students?”

Alphabet Soup

For Educational Organizations

Are you drowning in alphabet soup? Don't know your ASCD from your ISTE? Visit the NPH acronym directory for help.

Events and Exhibits

April – December 2009

Month	Event	Exhibit	Other
April
May
June
July
August
September
October
November
December

Welcome

Welcome to the April edition of EVoice@NPH, Northpoint Horizons™ monthly newsletter, providing high-quality education news, trends, research, tools, ideas, and product information for elementary and middle-school teachers. Northpoint Horizons is a new educational publishing company dedicated to meeting the needs of all students, especially those who are struggling as they learn.

The NPH monthly newsletter needs your input. Your feedback, comments, and questions are welcome here. Tell us what works for you. What kind of information, guidance, and support do you need most? Share your good ideas, your concerns, and your requests with us at customerservice@northpointhorizons.com educators are asking: How will the Stim affect our schools? How can our school district gain access to stimulus dollars? Will the Stim improve school buildings? Will it save jobs? Will my school get its fair share? Administrators are bombarded with paperwork, meetings, and phone calls. Teachers are flooded with mail offering new products.

How can you survive the Stim? Read more...

What's Hot! Surviving the Stim

Educators are buzzing about President Obama's economic stimulus package. The news is both exciting and overwhelming. Nationwide,

Each month we will feature an essay from the Teacher Appreciation Day 2008 Contest.

Inside This Classroom

*April Essay by:
Frankie Ann Kerr
Blue Ridge
Elementary
Warrensville, NC*

All teachers deserve special recognition.

The reason I think I deserve recognition is the exhausting hard work and effort I put forth each and every day to meet the needs of my students.

My students are very diverse in all aspects. I have students that live in